Trapping snakes:

There are no guarantees when it comes to trapping. The best chance of success is to hire a wildlife control professional. Otherwise these traps can be very useful for the effective and safe removal of snakes and other pests. These traps do not attract snakes to a location, they remove them from a location. Trap placement is critical. You must have some idea where the snakes have been sighted or where the snakes might be hiding. Position the trap in or around these areas so the snake sees the trap as a possible hiding place.

When a snake enters the trap they get entangled in the glue catch inserts. The more they try to get away, the more they get caught up in the glue. To release a captured snake, use vegetable oil to release the snake unharmed.
